“True progress quietly and persistently moves along without notice.”

St Francis of Assisi

Dear Families,

Today one of our teachers, Luke Crameri, will celebrate the life of his grandfather. Our thoughts and prayers are with Luke and his family at this difficult time.

Dear Lord,

It is not how long we live that counts, but how beautifully we live that matters.

Help us to remember that it is what we give to life more than its duration that adds eternal significance to our existence.

Thank you for the treasured memories that will forever enrich our lives because of whom You have called to live and love with You. We place him now into Your loving hands.

Help us to make our lives more dedicated, more joyful, more giving, so that through a life beautifully lived, we may express our gratitude for the longer years You have given us.

Amen.

Facilities Update

Victorian State Government Capital Grant

Thankfully the building of the 8 new classrooms, toilet block, meeting rooms and indoor atrium will be ready by mid November. We have been assured that the exterior of the building will be completed by the end of November. There will be some landscaping being completed in early December.

I spoke with our furniture company yesterday and we have been told that all furniture will arrive on November 30 and December 1. This means that our 2023 Year 5 & 6 children will be able to enjoy the new classrooms for the Orientation day which will be held on Tuesday 6 December.

I still hope that our current Year 5 & 6 children will be able to move into the new classrooms this year.

Art room

As you may remember, we had vandals break into our Art Room on Grand Final day. They left water running for over 12 hours which meant significant damage had occurred. Assessors arrived yesterday and have moved quickly to remove the carpet and lino (today) so that they can assess for structural and floor damage.

This means that the Art room will likely be closed for the remainder of the year while parts of the floor are replaced. Replastering, painting and carpet and lino will be installed in the coming weeks.

Art will be taught in the library and classrooms in the coming weeks.

Instrumental Concert

Our children learning an instrument are invited to share their musical talents with our school community on Tuesday 8 November in the school shed. All parents and family members are invited to attend the three Instrumental Concerts throughout the day from:

- Fnd - 2 from 10.00 - 11.00am
- Yr. 3 - 4 from 12.00 - 1.30pm
- Yr. 5 - 6 from 6.00 - 8.00pm

Please note that the shed will be closed on Monday 7 Nov & Tuesday 8 Nov so that sound and lighting can be moved into the shed and stage area.

Uniform Changeover

As previously advertised, we will be phasing in our new school uniform over the next two years. Children are still able to wear the old uniform items but it is expected that all children will be in the full new uniform for the beginning of the 2025 school year.

The following changes have been made to the existing uniform:

- New short and long sleeve polo shirts
- New softshell jacket which can be worn on its own (does not require woollen or rugby jumper to be worn underneath)
- Sport shorts & skorts which can be worn everyday
- Trackpants with cuffs
- Tunic (winter) with detachable bib - can be worn as either the tunic or skirt options
- Black sneakers can be worn everyday - must be fully black with no white or coloured logos present

Please note: there has been no change to the school dress, unisex drawstring pants, rugby jumper & woollen jumper.

During the changeover period, children may wear the old style uniform with some of the new uniform policy changes, ie: old style polo with old style sport shorts can be worn everyday.

We encourage parents to make sure their children adhere to the uniform policy and only wear approved school uniform items.

The new uniform items will be available to purchase, from the beginning of the 2023 school year, through the online shop at <https://buxwear.com.au/collections/st-francis-of-the-fields>

The old style uniform items have been discounted and are available to purchase from our shop located at school. Orders can also still be placed online for these items.

Year 6 Camp

Our Year 6 children will enjoy a camp at Cave Hill Creek from Wednesday 9 to Friday 11 November. I am grateful for the work of our Year 6 teachers who have planned diligently to ensure that our children have a wonderful experience.

I am confident our Year 6 children will represent our school proudly.

Term 4 School Closure Days & Public Holidays

Please note that our school will be closed on the following days:

- Monday 21 November – Pupil Free Day - Report Writing Day
- Tuesday 22 November – Pupil Free Day - 2023 Planning Day
- Friday 16 December – Pupil Free Day - 2023 Planning Day (Last day of the school year)

Upcoming School Closure
and
Student Free Days

Assembly

I am delighted to announce that our parents are most welcome to attend our Assemblies for the rest of the year.

Our assemblies will be held on:

- Friday 11 November at 2.45pm
- Friday 25 November at 2.45pm
- Friday 9 December at 1.00pm (before the Rainbow Run)

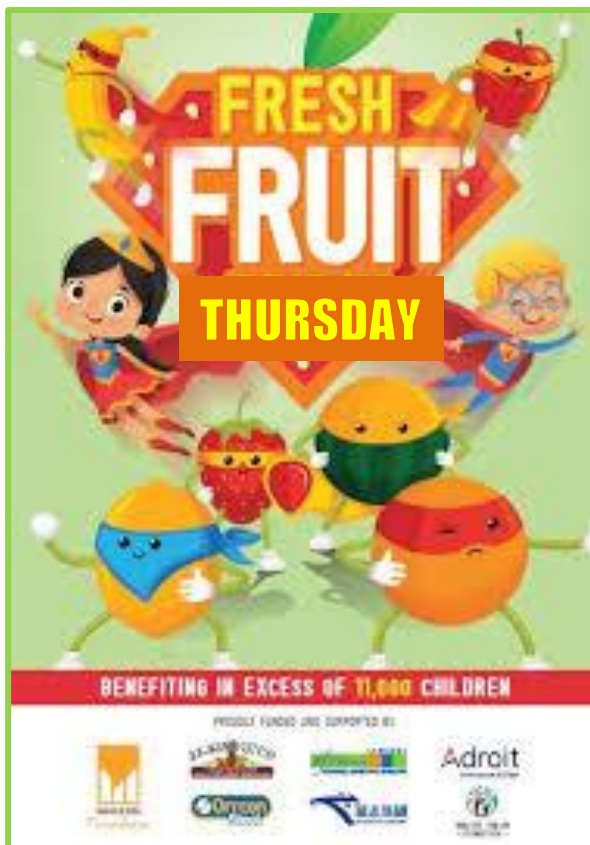

Feel free to come along and sit at the back of the audience.

Helping your young perfectionist

by Dr Kaylene Henderson
Theme: Resilience, Wellbeing and Mental Health

There's a perception in our society that perfectionism is a good thing, akin to 'being perfect..'. That it's something we should strive for or drop into conversation in job interviews... Yet the reality is quite different.

Perfectionism leads us to place unreasonably and often unrealistically high expectations on ourselves. Essentially, it causes us to raise the bar so high, that we frequently wind up feeling like failures, consumed by frustration and self-blame.

Of course, this can be very unsettling to witness in our kids and it can be hard for us to know how best to help. It can start when our children are very young and grow with them in intensity and impact. Perhaps you have a young child who refuses to draw because her drawings don't look exactly like those of an adult artist. Or maybe your little guy becomes so distressed by a small mistake in his homework, that he insists on starting all over again in his unhealthy quest for perfection.

If you have older kids, perhaps they refuse to submit an assignment because it's not perfect, or they won't run the cross country because they know they won't win.

While it's great for our kids to hold high expectations of themselves, aiming for perfection actually sets them up to fail. Their habitual 'all or nothing' thinking leads to the unhelpful belief that if they don't achieve 100%, they've as good as flunked. Their focus on their mistakes rather than on their successes often affects their self esteem, fuelling a vicious cycle that can lead to stress, depression and anxiety if left unchecked.

The sooner we help our kids break this unhealthy habit, the better. So let's look at a few tips for doing just that.

Reduce your praise

There are two ways in which we tend to praise children. 'Content praise' often draws attention to the end product, for example, "What a fantastic drawing!", or to a fixed quality in a child, such as "You're so clever". In contrast, 'process praise' focuses on how your child got there. When we use process praise, we draw attention to their good ideas, problem solving approaches, effort, persistence, concentration and enthusiasm.

While it's helpful for all children to experience more process praise than content praise, this is particularly true for children with perfectionistic traits. This allows us to draw the focus away from how impressive the end result might (or should) be and instead highlight the importance of having a go, trying their best and learning along the way.

For example, rather than saying, 'What a fantastic drawing! You're an amazing artist - what were you worried about?', it's more helpful to say something like, 'It's great to see you having a go at drawing. I love watching you try new things'; or, 'I love seeing the ideas you come up with when you draw'.

Of course, most of the time we needn't praise children at all. Saying simply, 'Drawing is fun isn't it?', is often enough to provide children with that all important sense of connection.

Model making mistakes

At my children's school, they're taught to embrace 'learning' - learning through failure. Admittedly, my children witness me 'flearning' all the time at home, but in the eyes of your child, you might seem perfect. It's helpful for your kids to see that you make mistakes too, and importantly to learn through your modelling how mistakes can be managed.

Look for (or create!) opportunities to do this. When you're planning on bringing some spoons to the dining table, you could bring knives over instead and say, 'Oops, my mistake. Not to worry. I'll just go back and swap these over.' Or, perhaps you could draw alongside your toddler and deliberately keep from drawing inside the lines, commenting to your little one as you go, 'I love drawing with you'. By doing so, you model for your child that mistakes are okay, that they needn't hamper their enjoyment of a task and importantly, that the end result isn't all that matters.

Teach your child to speak to themselves as a friend

How does your child talk to themselves?

Would they speak to a friend in the same way?

No? Then what might they say instead?

We all know how much our inner voice can affect how we feel. Teach your child to be kind to themselves. To be supportive, forgiving and encouraging, even when they make mistakes.

Consider how you react when your child behaves in an 'imperfect' way

Do you respond calmly when your child accidentally spills cereal all over the kitchen bench or do you tend to overreact? It's important when we're teaching our children that they needn't be perfect, that our responses back this up.

By accepting our children as they are - wonderful, 'good enough' young learners - we teach them to do the same. And that's so much better than perfect.

If you do have any concerns about the wellbeing of your child, please contact the school for further information or seek medical or professional help.

Remembrance Day

At St Francis of the Fields we will take time to pause and reflect as a whole school on Remembrance Day, Friday - 11 November. Our Year 4 students will lead us in prayer on this day. This date marks the end of World War 1 over a hundred years ago. At the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918, WW I ended, with the Armistice (or ceasefire) signed amongst the nations involved in the conflict. Although this was so long ago, it is an opportunity to remember all those who have died in wars and conflicts since then.

In our world today, life can be challenging with many people experiencing hardship, destruction of their homes and cities, hunger and very unsafe circumstances as there is still conflict in places such as Ukraine, Ethiopia, Yemen, Myanmar, Syria and Afghanistan. We pray that we value the freedoms that we enjoy today and commit ourselves to create peace in our world by recognising that peace begins in our own families, classrooms, schools and communities. Peace really does begin with us.

We have RSL Remembrance Day merchandise available for everyone to purchase in the office and staffroom. Poppies are $2ea and the other items range from $2 - $5.

THE ODE

*They shall grow not old,
as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them,
nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun
and in the morning
We will remember them.*

*God of peace, you created us to be people of love.
But the annals of history reflect how much humanity has failed to love.
Inspire love, forgiveness, and compassion within us for each other.
In the name of Christ, our Prince of peace.
Amen.*

Memorial Ceremony

Our annual Memorial Ceremony took place last week, Friday 28 October. We gathered to remember and celebrate the lives of those who have died, with a special prayer liturgy led by Fr Andrew Fewings and our Year 6 Catholic Identity leaders. We invited the family members of those named on the wall and welcome them to share this occasion with us and we were very fortunate that many were able to join us.

Each class created a page for our school Memorial Book. They included special people and pets that have died on their class page. This was a very special time to gather and remember and pray for our loved ones who have died and will always hold a special place in our hearts.

Thank you to Fr Andrew, the Year 6 Catholic Identity leaders, Mr Moloney for leading our music, Miss Cox and the choir for singing our Psalm and Mrs Thompson for providing such a delicious light lunch. We are very grateful to everyone that was able to attend, thank you.

Foundation & Yr 4 Units Mass - Friday 18 November at 11:45am

The Year 4 Mass has been rescheduled with the Foundation Unit Mass on Friday 18 November at 11:45am. Unfortunately, the Year 4 students were unable to celebrate Mass due to the flooding and school closure on Friday, 14 October.

This will be a wonderful celebration for our Foundation and Year 4 units. Families are invited to come along to this Mass. Please email your child's classroom teacher if you would like to attend.

Sacramental Program - Reconciliation

Students from Year 2 and above completed their second week of the sacramental program - Steps in Faith. The Our Times Together session was about the choices we make each day and how these choices impact ourselves and other people. The children reflected on some of the values and teachings of Jesus that help us make good choices.

First Reconciliation ceremonies will be held at St Therese's Church, Kennington on Tuesday 22 Nov and Wednesday 23 Nov at 7pm. We thank the teachers of St Francis of the Fields and St Therese's for facilitating these sessions for our students and their families.

Please contact Lisa Hitchcock lhitchcock@sfstrathfieldsaye.catholic.edu.au or Kristy Ryan stsacraments@gmail.com for more information.

Year 3 Unit Mass - Confirmation & First Eucharist

Fr Andrew Fewings celebrated the Year 3 Unit on Friday, 21 October. It was wonderful to have so many families join the students and teachers for the Mass. The students who had made their Confirmation and First Eucharist brought along the special gifts they had received for making their Sacraments to be blessed.

These children each received a beautiful set of rosary beads from the Knights of the Southern Cross. Fr Andrew blessed their gifts and rosary beads.

Thank you to Fr Andrew for celebrating our Mass, the altar servers, tech ninjas, all the families for attending and the Knights of the Southern Cross for generously gifting the students with such special rosary beads.

Catholic Missions 2022 Socktober - Kick goals for good!

On Friday 21 October, students wore their crazy or favourite socks to school to raise money for Catholic Missions. October was Missions month. Catholic Mission, as the Australian agency of the Pontifical Mission Societies, contributes funding and provides project support to critical church-run initiatives in Africa, Asia, Oceania and South America as well as remote dioceses within Australia.

The goal for Catholic Missions this October is food security and life-saving nutrition in Ethiopia. In 2022, our community along with students and their families from across Australia will raise funds to support families in Ethiopia facing malnutrition and food insecurity. Catholic Missions projects on the ground will help sustain and enrich the lives of vulnerable children who are in need of our support.

Year 6 Excursion – Sovereign Hill

On Tuesday 25th of October, the Year Six students participated in an excursion to Sovereign Hill, in Ballarat. We were so lucky as the weather was amazing.

We got to watch real gold being poured and watch the staff make hard-boiled lollies.

We did a self-guided mine tour that was quite an adventure. It had fake cave-ins and a remake of the welcome nugget.

On the Main Street, there were plenty of stores to spend our money. There was a candle making shop, a lolly shop and there was even bowling!

There were miniature donkeys and a pair of Clydesdale horses! We went to a gold pour demonstration and Milly and Ian were asked to come up to the front and hold the quarter-of-a-million-dollar block.

We went panning for gold in the hope that we would strike it rich like the miners did during the Goldrush. Some students actually found some gold! What an experience!
